- The Library is enriched with valuable books of reference on women's studies which are very much useful for research work.

Second Best Practice

Decentralization in Administration

The system of decentralization of administration is based on the Principle of individual and collective commitment and responsibility for effective functioning of an Institution to handle the various aspects of administrative problems and to work out the feasible solutions.

The system enables to identify the abilities and competency of different individuals particularly faculty whose expertise can be enhanced through further extension programs.

The administration is decentralized by delegating various responsibilities through several committees. Each committee is accountable for the Job entrusted.

The progress of the action plans are monitored in review meetings, Annual Plans are discussed in IQAC and Staff meetings; regular updates are received from the co-ordinators.

Thus it contributes for periodic review of various programmes, enhancement of capacity to work individually and in group.
